Headteacher's Blog

Diolch yn fawr, thank you for keeping Trerobart Covid safe by using the correct entrances for drop off and pick up and for being socially distant whilst on the school premises.

The children have settled back into their school routine exceptionally well. They have missed their friends and teachers and to hear them laughing and to see them smiling and enjoying learning again really is the best thing every day.

Please continue to support their learning at home with reading daily or as often as you can and complete any home tasks you may be given, it really does make a difference to speed of progress and increasing confidence in the classroom.

Trish Tazzini will be returning to school this term to work with individual classes instead of whole school assemblies, this will begin next week, and we are really looking forward to her return.

Pen-y-Fan and Pen-y-Fal are enjoying their weekly ukulele lesson from RCT Music service, their skills are improving week on week.

Children will be deciding next week what Trerobart will do in order to support Children in Need, they will inform you before half term.

There will be no face to face parents meetings this term, instead you will receive via class dojo, during the week of 9th November, information about your child's literacy and numeracy skills and targets for the term. There will also be general comments provided by the class teacher. IEPs will also be sent home during that week for you to sign and return. There will be a copy for you to retain.

If you have any concerns please do not hesitate to contact me. Tracy.buckle@rctcbc.gov.uk
