Headteacher Blog

Blwyddyn newydd dda! Happy new year to you all, I hope you had a restful Christmas break. The changes we have had to make to our risk assessment are working well, thanks to you all for supporting us in keeping your children and Trerobart staff and parents safe. It is likely over the next few weeks that the additional safety changes will be removed and we will be able to return to normal collection times and no requirement for class bubbles. I will keep you posted.

Home reading books - We are delighted to have been able to purchase some replacement reading books for several oxford reading tree stages, and lots of new guided reading books which are used daily for group reading in the foundation phase.

First Campus - We are very excited to be working with University of South Wales, based in Pontypridd with Y5 and Y6 this year. Lots of exciting events and visits are being planned.

University students - We welcome several new university students studying to become teachers. They are working in classes across the school.

February half term family challenge - This year we would like you to photograph your child reading in an unusual place., and share on our Twitter feed. There will be prizes for the most unusual location. We are calling the challenge, Extreme Reading. Posters and further information will be shared with you closer to the half term.

World Book day - Storyville Books will be visiting school on Thursday 3rd March to present all children with a world book day book that has been recommended for their age. They will also be bringing a pop up book stall if any children wish to bring money to purchase a book for home. An author will also be visiting to work with several classes throughout the day. Children will have the opportunity to dress up as their favourite book character on that day. The theme this year is a 'Passion for reading', which is perfect for Trerobart as that is one of our school targets for the year. There will be many different events taking place throughout the day to celebrate.

Eisteddfod - We will be celebrating this on Tuesday 1st March. Children participate in lots of events on the day as well as entering literacy and creative competitions before the Eisteddfod. Children in Eryri to Cadair Idris wear their house colour T-shirt/top and children in Crib Goch can wear traditional welsh costume if they wish.

Class dojo - Please continue to use this method to contact the classteacher or myself, however if your query is urgent please ring the school 01443 790233 or email head@trerobartprimary.rctcbc.cymru as I do not look at dojo on a daily basis.

Schoop - please ensure that you continue to use it, as the admin team has to use this platform to send you a message.

Diolch yn fawr, Mrs Buckle
