We have been informed by the Welsh Government that all schools will remain at the high risk level until after half term. As you are aware we have had many positive cases this week but numbers have not risen at the end of the week, so that is great news. We will be amending our risk assessments in line with this advice and will update you on any changes before half term.

Home reading books - We have just ordered even more of a selection of home reading books for our children who have just moved onto early readers. This has been made possible thanks to the £371 raised by you all if you purchased a raffle ticket for the table top sale at Christmas. Watch this space for further fundraising events at Easter.

World Book day - Storyville Books have arranged for the author, Claire Fayers to visit us on Thursday 3rd March. All junior classes are currently enjoying her latest book, Welsh Fairy Tales Myths and Legends. I have included her other novels as our recommended reads for this week.

Collective worship - Alun visited us this week and shared the story of Saul with Pen-y-Fan and pen-y-Fal. He will return next week to see Moel Hebog and Cadair Idris. We also look forward to seeing Trish return to work with individual classes over the next few weeks.

Visits to Temple Baptist Church - Pen-y-Fal will be visiting on February 15th to participate in a world book day event. Moel Hebog and Cadair Idris will visit on the 7th to participate in an event called Easter Cracked. There is no charge for these visits, school will cover the cost of the transport.

Astro Cymru - has worked with the children in Y5 and 6, where pupils were exposed to space science through fun, highly engaging experiments and activities. They have also spent time with all the teachers as part of their continued professional development. Look out for a fantastic week of events later this year called STEAM week.

Christmas Enterprise - All classes created an item that was sold to families and friends during the Christmas term. The winning class this year was Crib Goch who made £165 profit which equated to £5 per pupil! Llongyfarchiadau pawb, a diolch yn fawr i chi.

Congratulations and thank you very much to you all. Each class will use their enterprise profit for items they require for their classroom, chosen by the children.

Attendance Hero - Each term we award a hero award for the best attendance. Cadair Idris won for the Autumn Term. They have chosen to purchase a variety of activities to use during wet play times and golden time.

Diolch yn fawr, Mrs Buckle
